

Curriculum Vitae

Dean Baker

Center for Economic and Policy Research
1611 Connecticut Ave., NW, Suite 400
Washington, DC 20009
202-293-5380 x114
202-588-1356 (Fax)
baker@cepr.net

Education

1981 B.A., Swarthmore College, History-Major, Economics-Philosophy-Minors
1983 M.A., University of Denver, Economics
1988 Ph.D., University of Michigan, Economics, Dissertation: “The Logic of Neo-Classical Consumption Theory,” W.H. Locke Anderson, Chair

Employment

1983–88 Teaching Assistant-Instructor, University of Michigan
1988–89 Lecturer, University of Michigan
1989-92 Assistant Professor, Bucknell University
1992–97 Economist, Economic Policy Institute
1997–98 Senior Economist, Economic Policy Institute
January–December 1999 Senior Research Fellow, Preamble Center
1999–2018 Co-Director, Center for Economic and Policy Research
2018–present Senior Economist, Center for Economic and Policy Research

Books

Rigged: How Globalization and the Rules of the Modern Economy Were Structured to Make the Rich Richer, Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2016

Getting Back to Full Employment: A Better Bargain for Working People (with Jared Bernstein), Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2013

Getting Back to Full Employment: A Better Bargain for Working People (with Jared Bernstein), Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2013

The End of Loser Liberalism: Making Markets Progressive, Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2011

Taking Economics Seriously, MIT Press, 2010

False Profits: Recovering From the Bubble Economy, PoliPointPress, 2010

Plunder and Blunder: The Rise and Fall of the Bubble Economy, PoliPointPress, 2009

The United States Since 1980, Cambridge University Press, 2007.

The Conservative Nanny State: How the Wealthy Use the Government to Stay Rich and Get Richer, Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2006.

The Benefits of Full Employment (with Jared Bernstein), Economic Policy Institute, 2003.

Social Security: The Phony Crisis (with Mark Weisbrot), University of Chicago Press, 1999.

Globalization and Progressive Economic Policy, edited with Gerald Epstein and Robert Pollin, Cambridge University Press, 1998.

Getting Prices Right: The Battle Over the Consumer Price Index, M.E. Sharpe Press, 1997. (Selected for 1998 Choice Outstanding Academic Book List.)

Web Site Features

Beat the Press, author, daily, April 2006–present
(www.cepr.net/blogs/beat-the-press/)

Economic Reporting Review, author, weekly, August 2000–April 2006
(www.TomPaine.com)

Economic Reporting Review, author, weekly, January 1999–July 2000 (www.fair.org)

Reading Between the Lines, primary author, weekly, April 1996–December 1998
(www.epinet.org)

Commentaries on Major Economic Data reports, January 1995–present (www.cepr.net, since January 2000)

Beige Book Analysis and Review, January 1999–February 2004 (www.fmcenter.org)

Other Publications

“The Future of the Pharmaceutical Industry: Beyond Government-Granted Monopolies,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2019.

“Working Paper: A Progressive Trade Policy,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, November 2018.

“Voluntary Part-Time Employment and the Affordable Care Act: What Do Workers Do With Their Extra Time?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, October 2018, (with Hannah Archambault).

“Working Paper: Is Intellectual Property the Root of All Evil? Patents, Copyrights, and Inequality,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, October 2018.

“The Housing Bubble and the Great Recession: Ten Years Later,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, September 2018.

“Measuring the Inflation Rate: Is Housing Different?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, June 2018.

“The Availability of Data from Clinical Trials: The Case of Crohn's Disease,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, June 2018, (with Ravi Katari and Alex Provan).

“Does Tax Deductibility Affect CEO Pay? The Case of the Health Insurance Industry,” Washington, DC: Economic Policy Institute, March 2018, (with Jessica Schieder).

“State Payroll Taxes: A Tool for States to Circumvent the Republican Tax Plan,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, February 2018.

“The Wealth of Households: An Analysis of the 2016 Survey of Consumer Finance,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, October 2017, (with Cherrie Bucknor).

“The Impact of Low Unemployment Rates on Disadvantaged Groups,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, October 2017, (with Cherrie Bucknor).

“Innovation, Intellectual Property, and Development: A Better Set of Approaches for the 21st Century,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, July 2017, (with Arjun Jayadev and Joseph Stiglitz).

“The Full Employment Mandate of the Federal Reserve: Its Origins and Importance,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, July 2017, (with Sarah Rawlins and David Stein).

“The Affordable Care Act and the Change in Voluntary Part-time Employment by States,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2017, (with Cherrie Bucknor).

“Working Paper: Economic Policy in the Trump Era,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, February 2017, (with Cherrie Bucknor).

“Eight Market-Oriented Proposals That Reduce Income Inequality,” Washington, DC: American Enterprise Institute, January 2017.

“The International Trade Commission’s Assessment of the Trans-Pacific Partnership: Main Findings and Implications,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, November 2016.

“The Housing Bubble: Is It Back?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, November 2016, (with Lara Merling).

“Working Paper: The Compensation of Highly Paid Professionals: How Much Is Rent?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, August 2016.

“Working Paper: Rents and Inefficiency in the Patent and Copyright System: Is There a Better Route?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, August 2016.

“Reining in Wall Street to Benefit All Americans,” New York, NY: The Century Foundation, July 2016.

“The Wrong Tool for the Right Job,” Washington, DC: Economic Policy Institute, May 2016, (with Josh Bivens).

“Trade and Jobs: Can We Trust the Models?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, April 2016, (with David Rosnick).

“Still Working Hard: An Update on the Share of Older Workers in Physically Demanding Jobs,” March 2016, (with Cherrie Bucknor).

“Publicly Funded Clinical Trials: A Route to Sustained Innovation with Affordable Drugs,” March 2016.

“Working Paper: The Upward Redistribution of Income: Are Rents the Story?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, December 2015.

“The Incidence of Financial Transactions Taxes,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, December 2015, (with Nicole Woo).

“Frequently Asked Questions On the Federal Reserve Board, Monetary Policy, and the Proposed Full Employment Federal Reserve Act,” Washington, DC: Economic Policy Institute, December 2015, (with Josh Bivens).

“Pension Funding and the Economy: Would “Proper” Funding Cost Jobs?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, November 2015, (with Nick Buffie).

“Rising Disability Payments: Are Cuts to Workers’ Compensation Part of the Story?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, October 2015, (with Nick Buffie).

“The Impact of Exempting the Pharmaceutical Industry from Patent Reviews,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, July 2015.

“Patent Monopolies and the Costs of Mismarketing Drugs,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, April 2015, (with Ravi Katari).

“From Recession to Collapse: The Bush Administration and the Over-Valued Dollar,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2015.

“The Budgetary Implications of Higher Federal Reserve Board Interest Rates,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2015.

“Do Welfare State Liberals Also Love Regulation?,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, January 2015.

“The Social Security Benefits of Sitting Senators in 2015,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, January 2015, (with Alan Barber).

“The Wealth of Households: An Analysis of the 2013 Survey of Consumer Finances,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, November 2014, (with David Rosnick).

“The Big Tax Increase Nobody Noticed,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, September 2014.

“The Affordable Care Act: A Family-Friendly Policy,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, September 2014, (with Helene Jorgensen).

“Stimulus and Fiscal Consolidation: The Evidence and Implications,” Germany: Macroeconomic Policy Institute, July 2014, (with David Rosnick).

“Living in the Short-Run: Comment on Capital In the Twenty-First Century,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, April 2014.

“The Trade Deficit: The Biggest Obstacle to Full Employment,” Washington, DC: Center for Budget and Policy Priorities, March 2014

“Bringing Back Subprime? The Hazards of Restructuring the GSEs,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, October 2013, (with Nicole Woo).

“The Affordable Care Act: A Hidden Jobs Killer?,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, July 2013, (with Helene Jorgensen).

“Financial Engineering: The Simple Way to Reduce Government Debt Burdens,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, July 2013, (with Shiava Diagne).

“Savings with an Efficient Medicare Prescription Drug Benefit,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2013, (with Nicole Woo).

“Reducing Waste With an Efficient Medicare Prescription Drug Benefit,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, February 2013.

“Debt, Deficits, and Demographics: Why We Can Afford the Social Contract,” Washington, DC: New America Foundation, November 2012.

“The Problem with Structural Unemployment in the U.S.,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, October 2012.

“Missing the Story: The OECD's Analysis of Inequality,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, July 2012, (with David Rosnick).

“Attacking the Treasury View, Again,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, June 2012.

“States Could Save .7 Billion Per Year with Federal Financing of Work Sharing,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, May 2012 (with Nicole Woo).

“First Time Underwater: The Impact of the First-Time Homebuyer Tax Credit,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, April 2012.

“The Impact on Inequality of Raising the Social Security Retirement Age,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, April 2012 (with David Rosnick).

“The Relationship Between Financial Transactions Costs and Economic Growth,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2012 (with Helene Jorgensen).

“It's So Hard to Get Good Help,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, February 2012.

“The Necessity of a Lower Dollar and the Route There,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, February 2012.

“Pension Liabilities: Fear Tactics and Serious Policy,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, January 2012 (with David Rosnick).

“The Impact of Cutting Social Security Cost of Living Adjustments on the Living Standards of the Elderly,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, September 2011 (with David Rosnick).

“Do Tax Cuts Boost the Economy?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, September 2011 (with David Rosnick).

“The Social Security Benefits of Sitting Senators Revisited,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, September 2011 (with Kris Warner and Alan Barber).

“When Numbers Don't Add Up: The Statistical Discrepancy in GDP Accounts,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, August 2011 (with David Rosnick).

“Work Sharing: The Quick Route Back to Full Employment,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, June 2011.

“7 Things You Need to Know About the National Debt, Deficits, and the Dollar,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, June 2011 (with David Rosnick).

“Federal Reserve Board Policy and the Price of Oil,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, May 25, 2011 (Testimony before the Subcommittee on Regulatory Affairs, Stimulus Oversight and Government Spending, Committee on Oversight & Government Reform, U.S. House of Representatives).

“Representative Ryan’s $30 Trillion Medicare Waste Tax,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, April 2011 (with David Rosnick).

“The Ryan Medicare Plan: Winners and Losers,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, April 2011 (with David Rosnick).

“The Wisconsin Retirement System is One of the Healthiest in the Country,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2011.

“State and Municipal Debt: The Coming Crisis? Part II,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 15, 2011, (Testimony before the Subcommittee on TARP and Financial Resources, Committee on Oversight & Government Reform, U.S. House of Representatives).

“The Potential Savings to Social Security from Means Testing,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2011 (with Hye Jin Rho).

“The Origins and Severity of the Public Pension Crisis,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, February 2011.

“A Voluntary Default Savings Plan: An Effective Supplement to Social Security,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, February 2011 (with David Rosnick).

“The Deficit-Reducing Potential of a Financial Speculation Tax,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, January 2011.

“The Social Security Benefits of Sitting Senators,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, January 2011 (with Kris Warner).

“Letter to Senator Michael Bennet on Social Security Comments,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, November 2010.

“Action on Social Security: The Urgent Need for Delay,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, November 2010.

“The Impact of Income Distribution on the Length of Retirement,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, October 2010 (with David Rosnick).

“The Myth of Expansionary Fiscal Austerity,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, October 2010.

“Feel No Pain: Why a Deficit in Times of High Unemployment is Not a Burden,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, September 2010.

“The Gains From Right to Rent in 2010,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, September 2010 (with Hye Jin Rho).

“Seven Key Facts About Social Security and the Federal Budget,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, September 2010.

“Has the Congressional Budget Office Joined the Push for Cutting Social Security?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, July 2010.

“The Impact of Social Security Cuts on Retiree Income,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, July 2010 (with David Rosnick).

“The Benefits of Financial Transactions Taxes,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, May 17, 2010 (Statement to the Bundestag).

“New Strategies for Supporting Public and Noncommercial Media,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, April 30, 2010 (Statement at the Federal Communications Commission’s Future of Media Workshop).

“The Successes and Shortcomings of the Homeowner Affordability Modification Program,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research,

April 14, 2010 (Testimony before the Subcommittee on Housing and Community Opportunity).

“Profits on Citigroup Stock: Can They Be the Basis for Financing Stimulus?”
Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, April 2010.

“Work-Sharing: An Effective Tool Against Chronic Unemployment,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 17, 2010 (Testimony before the Congressional Black Caucus).

“The Budget Deficit Scare Story and the Great Recession,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, February 2010.

“Responses to Criticisms of Taxes on Financial Speculation,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, January 2010.

“The Potential Revenue from Financial Transactions Taxes,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, December 2009 (with Robert Pollin, Travis McArthur, and Matt Sherman).

“Public Investment, Industrial Policy and U.S. Economic Renewal,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, December 2009 (with Robert Pollin).

“Taming the Deficit: Saving Our Children from Themselves,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, December 2009 (with David Rosnick).

“The $1 Trillion Wage Deficit,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, December 2009 (with John Schmitt).

“The Federal Reserve Must Counteract Asset Bubbles,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, November 2009 (with Jane D'Arista and Gerald Epstein).

“The Failures of TARP,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, November 19, 2009 (Testimony before the Congressional Oversight Panel for the Troubled Asset Relief Program).

“Issues in Trade and Protectionism,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, November 2009.

“Job Sharing: Tax Credits to Prevent Layoffs and Stimulate Employment,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, October 2009.

“Free Trade in Health Care: The Gains from Globalized Medicare and Medicaid,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, October 2009 (with Hye Jin Rho).

“The Value of the ‘Too Big to Fail’ Big Bank Subsidy,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, September 2009 (with Travis McArthur).

“CBO Projects More Severe Downturn,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, August 2009.

“Hitting Bottom? An Updated Analysis of Rents and the Price of Housing in 100 Metropolitan Areas,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, August 2009 (with Danilo Pelletiere and Hye Jin Rho).

“The Gains from Right to Rent,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, July 2009 (with Hye Jin Rho).

“The Right to Rent Plan,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, July 2009 (updated April 2010).

“The State and Local Drag on the Stimulus,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, May 2009 (with Rivka Deutsch).

“Pay for Play? Tax Credits for Paid Time Off,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2009.

“The AIG Saga: A Brief Primer,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2009.

“The Foreclosure Crisis and President Obama’s Making Home Affordable Program,” March 19, 2009 (Testimony before the Subcommittee on Housing and Community Opportunity of the House Financial Services Committee).

“Is the U.S. Unemployment Rate Today Already as High as It Was in 1982?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2009 (with John Schmitt).

“The Housing Crash Recession and the Case for a Third Stimulus,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2009.

“Investment Bank Welfare?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2009 (with Matt Sherman).

“The Wealth of the Baby Boom Cohorts After the Collapse of the Housing Bubble,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, February 2009 (with David Rosnick).

“The Impact of the Current Economic Crisis on the Elderly,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, February 25, 2009 (Testimony before the Special Senate Committee on Aging).

“The Problems of the Current System of Retirement Income,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, February 24, 2009 (Testimony before the House Committee on Education and Labor).

“Spending Versus Tax Cuts: Who Pays the Cost of Political Compromise?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, January 2009.

“The Impact of the Medicare Drug Benefit on Health Care Spending by Older Households,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, December 2008 (with Ben Zipperer).

“IOUSA Not OK,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, October 2008 (with David Rosnick).

“The Credit Squeeze Scare,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, October 2008.

“Slow-Motion Recession: What Congress Can Do to Help,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, July 2008 (with Eileen Appelbaum and John Schmitt).

“The Impact of the Housing Crash on Family Wealth,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, July 2008 (with David Rosnick).

“Offshore Drilling and Energy Conservation: The Relative Impact on Gas Prices,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, June 2008 (with Nichole Szembrot).

“The Housing Bubble and the Financial Crisis,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, May 2008.

“The Cost of Maintaining Ownership in the Current Crisis: Comparisons in 20 Cities,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, April 2008 (with Danilo Pelletiere and Hye Jin Rho).

“The Benefits and Savings of Publicly-Funded Clinical Trials of Prescription Drugs,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2008.

“Subprime Rescue Plans: Backdoor Bank Bailouts,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2008.

“Subprime Borrowers Deserve an Own to Rent Transition,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, January 2008.

“What We’re In For: Projected Economic Impact of the Next Recession,” Washington DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, January 2008 (with John Schmitt).

“Changes in the Cost of Medicare Prescription Drug Plans, 2007-2008,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, November 2007 (with Joshua Lanier).

“Midsummer Meltdown: Prospects for the Stock and Housing Markets,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic Policy and Research, August 2007.

“‘Usable Productivity’ Growth in the U.S.: An International Comparison, 1980-2005,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic Policy and Research, June 2007 (with David Rosnick).

“The Economic Impact of the Iraq War and Higher Military Spending,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, May 2007.

“The Productivity to Paycheck Gap: What the Data Show,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, April 2007.

“Celebrating Pork: The Dubious Success of the Medicare Drug Benefit,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2007.

“Stagnation in the Drug Development Process: Are Patents the Problem?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2007.

“Behind the Gap Between Productivity and Wage Growth,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, February 2007.

“Universal Voluntary Accounts: A Step Toward Fixing the Retirement System,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, December 2006.

“Recession Looms for the U.S. Economy in 2007,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, December 2006.

“Old Europe Goes to Work: Rising Employment Rates in the European Union,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, September 2006 (with John Schmitt).

“The Impact of Undercounting in the Current Population Survey,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, August 2006 (with John Schmitt).

“The Origins of the Doughnut Hole: Excess Profits on Prescription Drugs,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, August 2006.

“Waste in the Medicare Drug Benefit: Why the Doughnut Hole Is Unnecessary.” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, July 2006.

“Are Protective Labor Market Institutions Really At the Root of European Unemployment: A Critical Perspective,” July 2006 (with Andrew Glyn, David Howell, and John Schmitt).

“Is the Housing Bubble Collapsing: Ten economic Indicators to Watch,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, June 2006.

“Missing Inaction: Evidence of Undercounting of Non-Workers in the Current Population Survey,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, September 2006 (with John Schmitt).

“The Savings From an Efficient Medicare Drug Plan,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, January 2006.

“Will a Bursting Bubble Trouble Bernanke?: The Evidence for a Housing Bubble.” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, November 2005 (with David Rosnick).

“Bird Flu Fears: Is There a Better Way to Develop Drugs?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, October 2005.

“Taxing Exxon's Windfall From Hurricane Katrina.” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, September 2005.

“Are Copyrights a Textbook Scam? Alternatives for Financing Textbook Production in the 21st Century.” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, September 2005.

“Scorecard on Development: 25 Years of Diminished Progress.” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, September 2005 (with Mark Weisbrot and David Rosnick).

“Is There a Housing Bubble?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, September 2005 (with David Rosnick).

“Gender Bias in the Current Economic Recovery?: Declining Employment Rates for Women in the 21st Century,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, August 2005 (with Heather Boushey and David Rosnick).

“Asset Returns and Economic Growth,” Brookings Papers on Economic Activity 1:2005 (with Brad DeLong and Paul Krugman).

“The Reform of Intellectual Property,” PAE review (www.paecon.net), iss. 32, 5 July 2005.

“The Housing Bubble Fact Sheet,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, July 2005.

“Things That Will Happen Before Social Security Faces a Shortfall,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, June 2005.

“Social Security Rates of Return with ‘Progressive Indexation’,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, May 2005 (with David Rosnick).

“The Regressive Impact of the Progressive Indexation of Social Security Benefits,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, May 2005.

“Bigger Than the Social Security Crisis: Wasteful Spending on Prescription Drugs,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, April 2005.

“The Social Security Shortfall and the National Defense Shortfall,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, April 2005.

“The Burden of Social Security Taxes and the Burden of Excessive Health Care Costs,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, April 2005 (with David Rosnick).

“The Burden of Social Security Taxes and the Burden of Wage Inequality,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2005.

“Defaulting on the Social Security Trust Fund: What It Would Mean, and How It Would Be Done,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, March 2005.

“Empty Promises: The Benefits to African American Men of Private Accounts Under President Bush's Social Security Plan,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, February 2005.

“Growing the Social Security Crisis: The Social Security Administration's Poverty Rate Projections,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, January 2005 (with Mark Weisbrot).

“Who's Dreaming? Homeownership Among Low Income Families,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, January 2005.

“The Benefits to State Governments from the Free Market Drug Act,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, November 2004.

“Bad Times: The Impact of Changes in Work Schedules on Productivity Growth,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, November 2004 (with John Schmitt).

“Getting Mexico to Grow With NAFTA: The World Bank's Analysis,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, October 2004 (with Mark Weisbrot and David Rosnick).

“Going Down With the Dollar: The Cost to Developing Countries of a Declining Dollar,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, September 2004 (with Mark Weisbrot and David Rosnick).

“Labor Market Institutions and Unemployment,” in Fighting Unemployment: The Limits of Free Market Orthodoxy, Oxford University Press, 2004 (with Andrew Glyn, David Howell, and John Schmitt).

“Financing Drug Research: What Are the Issues?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2004.

“Dangerous Trends: The Growth of Debt in the U.S. Economy,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2004.

“Too Much Bubbly at the Fed?: The New York Federal Reserve Board’s Analysis of the Run-Up in Home Prices,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2004.

“Applying Economics to Economists: Good Governance at the International Financial Institutions,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2004 (with Mark Weisbrot).

“Medicare Choice Plus: The Answer to the Long-Term Deficit Problem,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2004.

“Nafta at Ten: The Recount,” with Mark Weisbrot and David Rosnick, Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2004.

“The Current Account Deficit and the Budget Deficit,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2004.

“Fool’s Gold: Projections of the U.S. Import Market,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2004.

“The Housing Bubble in New England,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2004.

“The Artistic Freedom Voucher: Internet Age Alternative to Copyrights,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2003.

“Labor Market Protections and Unemployment: Does the IMF Have a Case?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2003 (with John Schmitt).

“Security Transactions Taxes for U.S. Financial Markets,” Political Economy Research Institute, Eastern Economic Review, October 2003 (with Robert Pollin and Marc Schaberg).

“Too Sunny In Latin America? The IMF’s Overly Optimistic Growth Projections and Their Consequences,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2003 (with David Rosnick).

“The Forty-Four Trillion Dollar Deficit Scare,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2003 (with David Rosnick).

“Professional Protectionists: The Gains From Free Trade in Highly Paid Professional Services,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2003.

“The Real Budget and the Real Budget Deficit,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2003 (with David Rosnick).

“Homeownership in a Bubble: The Fast Path to Poverty?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2003 (with Simone Baribeau).

“Bursting Bubbles: Why the Economy Will Go from Bad to Worse,” In These Times, May 9, 2003.

“When Rivers Flow Upstream: International Capital Movements in the Era of Globalization” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2003 (with Monique Morrissey).

“Growing Pain: The Expense of Drugs for the Elderly,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2003 (with John Schmitt).

“The Run-Up in Home Prices: Is It Real or Is It Another Bubble?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2002.

“Macro Policy-Making in the New Economy,” in The New Economy Handbook, edited by Derek Jones, Academic Press, 2003.

“Labor Market Institutions and Unemployment,” in Questioning Liberalization: Unemployment, Labor Markets, and the Welfare State, Oxford University Press, 2004 (with Andrew Glyn, David Howell, and John Schmitt).

“Dangerous Minds: The Track Record of Economic and Financial Analysts,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2002.

“Promoting Good Ideas on Drugs: Are Patents the Best Way? The Relative Efficiency of Patent and Public Support for Bio-Medical Research,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2002.

“Paying the Bills in Brazil: Does the I.M.F. Math Add Up?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2002 (with Mark Weisbrot).

“The Run-Up in Home Prices: Is It Real or Is It Another Bubble?” Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2002.

“The Relative Impact of Trade Liberalization on Developing Countries,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2002 (with Mark Weisbrot).

“Business Week Restates the Nineties,” Challenge, July-August, 2002.

“The Role of Social Security Privatization in Argentina’s Economic Crisis,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2002 (with Mark Weisbrot).

“Is the New Economy Wearing Out? The Growing Importance of Depreciation in GDP,” Challenge, November-December, 2001.

“Money for Nothing: The Increasing Cost of Foreign Reserve Holdings to Developing Nations,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2001 (with Karl Walentin).

“Hot Air Over the Arctic: An Assessment of the WEFA Study of the Economic Impact of Oil Drilling in the Arctic National Wildlife Refuge,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2001.

“Defaulting on the Social Security Trust Fund: Winners and Losers,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2001.

“The New Economy Goes Bust: What the Record Shows,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2001.

“Effective Currency Transactions Taxes: The Need to Tax Derivatives,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2001.

“The Scorecard on Globalization 1980-2000: Twenty Years of Diminished Progress,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2001 (with Mark Weisbrot, Egor Kraev, and Judy Chen).

“Vaccine Buying Pools: Is More Protectionism the Best Route?” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2001.

“Projections of Income for the 21st Century,” International Journal of Health Services, Summer, 2001.

“Diverting the Old Age Crisis: International Projections of Living Standards in the 21st Century,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2000.

“What's New In the Nineties: An Assessment of the Nineties Business Cycle,” in Alternative Perspectives on the Economy, edited by Jeffrey Madrick, New York: Century Foundation, 2000.

“Pensions for the 21st Century,” New York: Century Foundation, 2000.

“NAIRU: Dangerous Dogma at the Federal Reserve Board,” Philamont, VA: Financial Markets Center, 2000.

“The Administrative Costs of the Bush and Gore Proposals for Individual Accounts,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2000.

“After the Fall: The Implications of a Stock Market Crash,” The American Prospect, August 2000.

“Can Clean Insurance Stop Global Warming?” The American Prospect, July 2000.

“The Feasibility of a Unilateral Speculation Tax in the United States,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2000.

“The Supply-Side Implications of the Stock Market Bubble,” Challenge, July-August 2000.

“Governor Bush's Individual Account Proposal: A Reassessment Using Realistic Stock Return Project,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2000.

“Double Bubble: The Implications of the Over-Valuation of the Stock Market and the Dollar,” Washington, DC: Center for Economic and Policy Research, 2000.

“The Macroeconomic Roots of High European Unemployment,” (in translation) WSI Mitteilungen, Fall 1999 (with John Schmitt).

“Too Much of the Bubbly on Wall Street,” Dollars and Sense, July 1999.

“Healthy Stock Returns in a Slow Growing Economy,” Challenge, May-June, 1999.

“Stocking Up the Trust Fund,” American Prospect, March-April, 1999.

“The Insurance Value of Social Security,” New York: The Century Foundation, 1999.

“Saving Social Security In Three Steps,” Washington, DC: Economic Policy Institute, 1998.

“The Lessons of the Nineties Recovery,” The American Prospect, November-December, 1998.

“The Computer Driven Productivity Boom,” Challenge, October-November, 1998.

“The NAIRU: Is it a Real Constraint? — An analysis of the evidence for the existence of a non-accelerating inflation rate of unemployment across the OECD,” in Globalization and Progressive Economic Policy, edited by Dean Baker, Jerry Epstein, and Robert Pollin.. Cambridge University Press, 1998.

“Social Security: A New Deal Program for the Twenty First Century,” Reclaiming Broadly Shared Prosperity, edited by Ray Marshall, M.E. Sharpe Press, 1999.

“Defusing the Baby Boomer Time Bomb: Projections of Income for the 21st Century.” Washington, DC: Economic Policy Institute, June 1998.

“Is the New Economy Hidden In the Statistical Discrepancy?” Challenge, May-June, 1998.

“The Boskin Commission After One Year,” Challenge, March-April, 1998.

“The Public Investment Deficit,” Washington, DC: Economic Policy Institute, February 1998.

Savings Social Security With Stocks: The Promises Don't Add Up, Twentieth Century Fund, 1997.

“Conceptual and Accounting Issues in the Analysis of Saving, Investment, and Macroeconomic Activity,” in The Macroeconomics of Saving, Finance and Investment, edited by Robert Pollin, Ann Arbor, MI: University of Michigan Press, 1997.

“The Overstated Consumer Price Index: What If It's True?” Challenge, September-October, 1996.

“Privatizing Social Security: The Wall St. Fix,” Washington, DC: Economic Policy Institute, February 1996.

“Getting Prices Right: A Methodologically Consistent Consumer Price Index, 1953-1994,” Washington, DC: Economic Policy Institute, April 1996.

“Trends in Corporate Profitability: Getting More for Less?” Washington, DC: Economic Policy Institute, February 1996.

“Social Security: Don't Mess With Success,” in Reclaiming Prosperity: A Blueprint for Progressive Economic Reform, edited by Todd Schafer and Jeff Faux. Armonk, NY: M. E. Sharpe, 1996.

“Profits Up, Wages Down: Worker Losses Yield Big Gains for Business,” Washington, DC: Economic Policy Institute, September 1995 (with Lawrence Mishel).

“Robbing the Cradle?: A Critical Assessment of Generational Accounting,” Washington, DC: Economic Policy Institute, July 1995.

“Revising the Consumer Price Index: Correcting Bias, or Biased Corrections?” Washington, DC: Economic Policy Institute, April 1995.

“The Logic of Contested Exchange,” Journal of Economic Issues, December 1994, pp 1091-1114 (with Mark Weisbrot).

“The Myth of the Investment Led Recovery,” Challenge, November-December, 1994, pp 2-8.

“Depressing Our Way to Recovery,” The American Prospect, Winter, 1994, pp 110-115.

“The Impact of the Clinton Health Plan on Jobs, Investment, Wages, Productivity, and Exports,” Washington, DC: Economic Policy Institute, November 1993 (with Edie Rasell and Kainan Tang).

“Rapid Deficit Reduction: The Fast Path to Slow Growth,” Washington, DC: Economic Policy Institute, October 1993.

“The Clinton Budget Package: Putting Deficit Reduction First?” Challenge, May-June, 1993, pp 2-8 (with Todd Schafer).

“Employment Multipliers in the U.S. Economy,” Washington, DC: Economic Policy Institute, May 1993 (with Thea Lee).

“The Right to Income,” Journal of Income Distribution, 2(1), Summer 1992, pp 59-89.

“Generations at War: The Real Problems with Social Security,” Dollars and Sense, #161, November 1990, pp 15-19.